Spectator Notes

State Senator Fred Weybret, running for reelection, spoke briefly at the Carmel Rotary Club meeting this week explaining what the legislature faced in trimming the budget. He noted that one of the most difficult problems comes when state offices seek new positions whether or not they are needed. Some departments have a goal of a certain number of new jobs every year, regardless. Committees must look closely to see which can be cut without impairing service. He concluded by saying that no tax cut is in sight.

The job of excavating for Tom Perry's new office building on Dolores was done remarkably quickly. It has changed the look of the street considerably. The trucks carting away the hill left odd little islands of dirt in the middle of the street at the corner of Dolores and 6th, complete with plants.

New Game! Instead of just prosaically dialing a telephone number, you dial words. If you want Peggy Porter Marquard, you dial WANT. If you want Conlan and Geisen, it's SETUP. Get the idea? Now find some of your own. Something like anagrams.

The collection of models at the Phinney-McGinnis travel agency office in Monterey is unusually fine. Bob McGinnis told The Spectator that the model of the famed Lurline cost about $10,000. The models, owned by the steamship companies, are on loan here for the opening of the agency's new office.

Millie Andrews, The Nest's thrush, opened the new MP club room at Fort Ord recently. During the ceremonies, Millie was named "Miss MP for 1952," and she responded with a few hours entertainment at the new club's piano. Incidentally, Gen. McClure was head talent scout for the affair. He watched Millie at The Nest one evening and handed down the official approval.

The California Highway Patrol says that March turned out to be the lowest month for highway fatalities since January, 1951. Says it was credited to "voluntary or forced reduction of high speeds." What they really mean is those March patrolmen, the ones that come in like a lion and make us all into lambs.

Townsend Miller, the local author, is off for Mexico, then Spain.

From May 4 to 10 all mental institutions will be holding open house, for Mental Health Week. They want to demonstrate that California institutions are out of the "snake-pit" age.

General Robert B. McClure has had a lively correspondence this week... 15,000 letters to relatives of Orders, inviting them to Armed Forces Day here on May 17.

Kiwanis clubs from the Peninsula and a number of near-by towns spent last Friday, Kiwanis Day, at Fort Ord, looking over the installations and activities there. The men commented on the realism of the training maneuvers, and the ladies, bless them, on the "courtesy of the military personnel."

One citizen at the water rate increase hearings saw something sinister in the proceedings. He handed a note to one of the attorneys there guarding the public's interest which read "The great American Alger Hiss started out selling water."

William C. Foster, deputy Secretary of Defense, will be the honored guest at one of those informal dinners at the Fairgrounds Hunt Club as part of the Peninsula's recognition of Armed Forces Day. The dinner, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will be held Friday, May 16.

PLANNERS APPROVE TWO COMMERCIAL ADDITIONS

Two additions to commercial buildings were approved by the Carmel Planning Commission this week. An addition to the Nielsen Brothers' office building under construction at the corner of Lincoln and 7th. The addition will give the building a total of six offices and a store area on the corner.

Harold Nielsen said that the offices will probably be filled by doctors and dentists. A pharmacy probably will go into the store.

The second addition approved was applied for by Philip Wilson, Jr. for the Pine Terrace apartments at the corner of Mission and 3rd. The addition will add eight new units.

The planners also approved a use permit to wash and wax cars on the parking lot at the corner of Junipero and Ocean. Henry George, the proprietor, told the commission he was planning to erect a small building on the lot to house the polishing tools and equipment.

George said he was aware that the present arrangement of storing equipment on the lot is not sightly. He added that now the use permit has been granted he can go ahead with plans for a building.

CANDIDATE HOLMES TO BE AT PUBLIC LUNCHEON

James L. Holmes, Republican candidate for Congress, will meet voters of the area at a luncheon at Cerrito's at noon Saturday. The meeting has been planned so that any and all persons interested in Holmes' candidacy can have a chance to meet him.

Running against Ernest Bramblett, incumbent, Holmes has filed only on the Republican ticket. Both Bramblett and Will Hayes, Democratic candidate, have cross filed.

Between 75 and 100 are expected at the meeting. Lunch will be $1.50, including everything.

HONORS DAY AWARDS

Two Carmel students were singled for honors at the first Annual Honors Day program held at Monterey Peninsula College last Saturday. Kurt von Meler took first place in speech and Jo Albee garnered a similar award in art. Tests were given at the college to students of outstanding academic achievement on nine different subjects, and the examinations were followed by a luncheon at Fort Ord during which Gen. Robert B. McClure addressed the young people. Calvin Flint, president of MPC, announced the winners after lunch, and Edward Kennedy, associate publisher of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, was a guest.

Other local winners were Robert Hall of Seaside, mathematics; Robert Danta of Marina, science; Martian Drabas of Santa Cruz, social science; Lorraine Bispo of Santa Cruz, business, and Ronald Dow of Pacific Grove, English.

TEACHERS ASK INCREASE IN STATE AID MONEY

Carmel teachers have joined in the drive to increase state aid to education to $120 per student per year. The California Teachers' Association is circulating the petitions which would amend the law governing the amount paid by the state to each school district.

Although the petition reads "from $90 to $120," the legislature recently raised the amount to $95, so the increase asked is $25 per student. At present, the Carmel school district will receive $70,250 for the school year 1952-'53, on the basis of $95 for an average daily attendance of 900. If the amount is increased to $120, the school district can expect about $92,750 in the year 1953-'54.

The present school budget is about $270,000. The difference between the state aid and the total budget is made up through property taxes on the district.

State aid money comes from state sales tax revenue, although education has first lien on all state funds. The CTA states, in the material issued with the petitions, that if the general business level is maintained, the increase in state aid will probably not force a tax increase.

CAPTAIN NEWELL

GRADUATES FROM BENNING

Col. and Mrs. H. F. Newell of Carmel have received word that their son, Captain John H. Newell, was graduated from the advanced course at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia.

Young Newell is a Korean veteran having served there with the 2nd Division. He is the holder of the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Bronze Star with "V" device and the French Croix de Guerre. He will remain at Benning as an instructor now.

CHRISTIERSON TO SPEAK

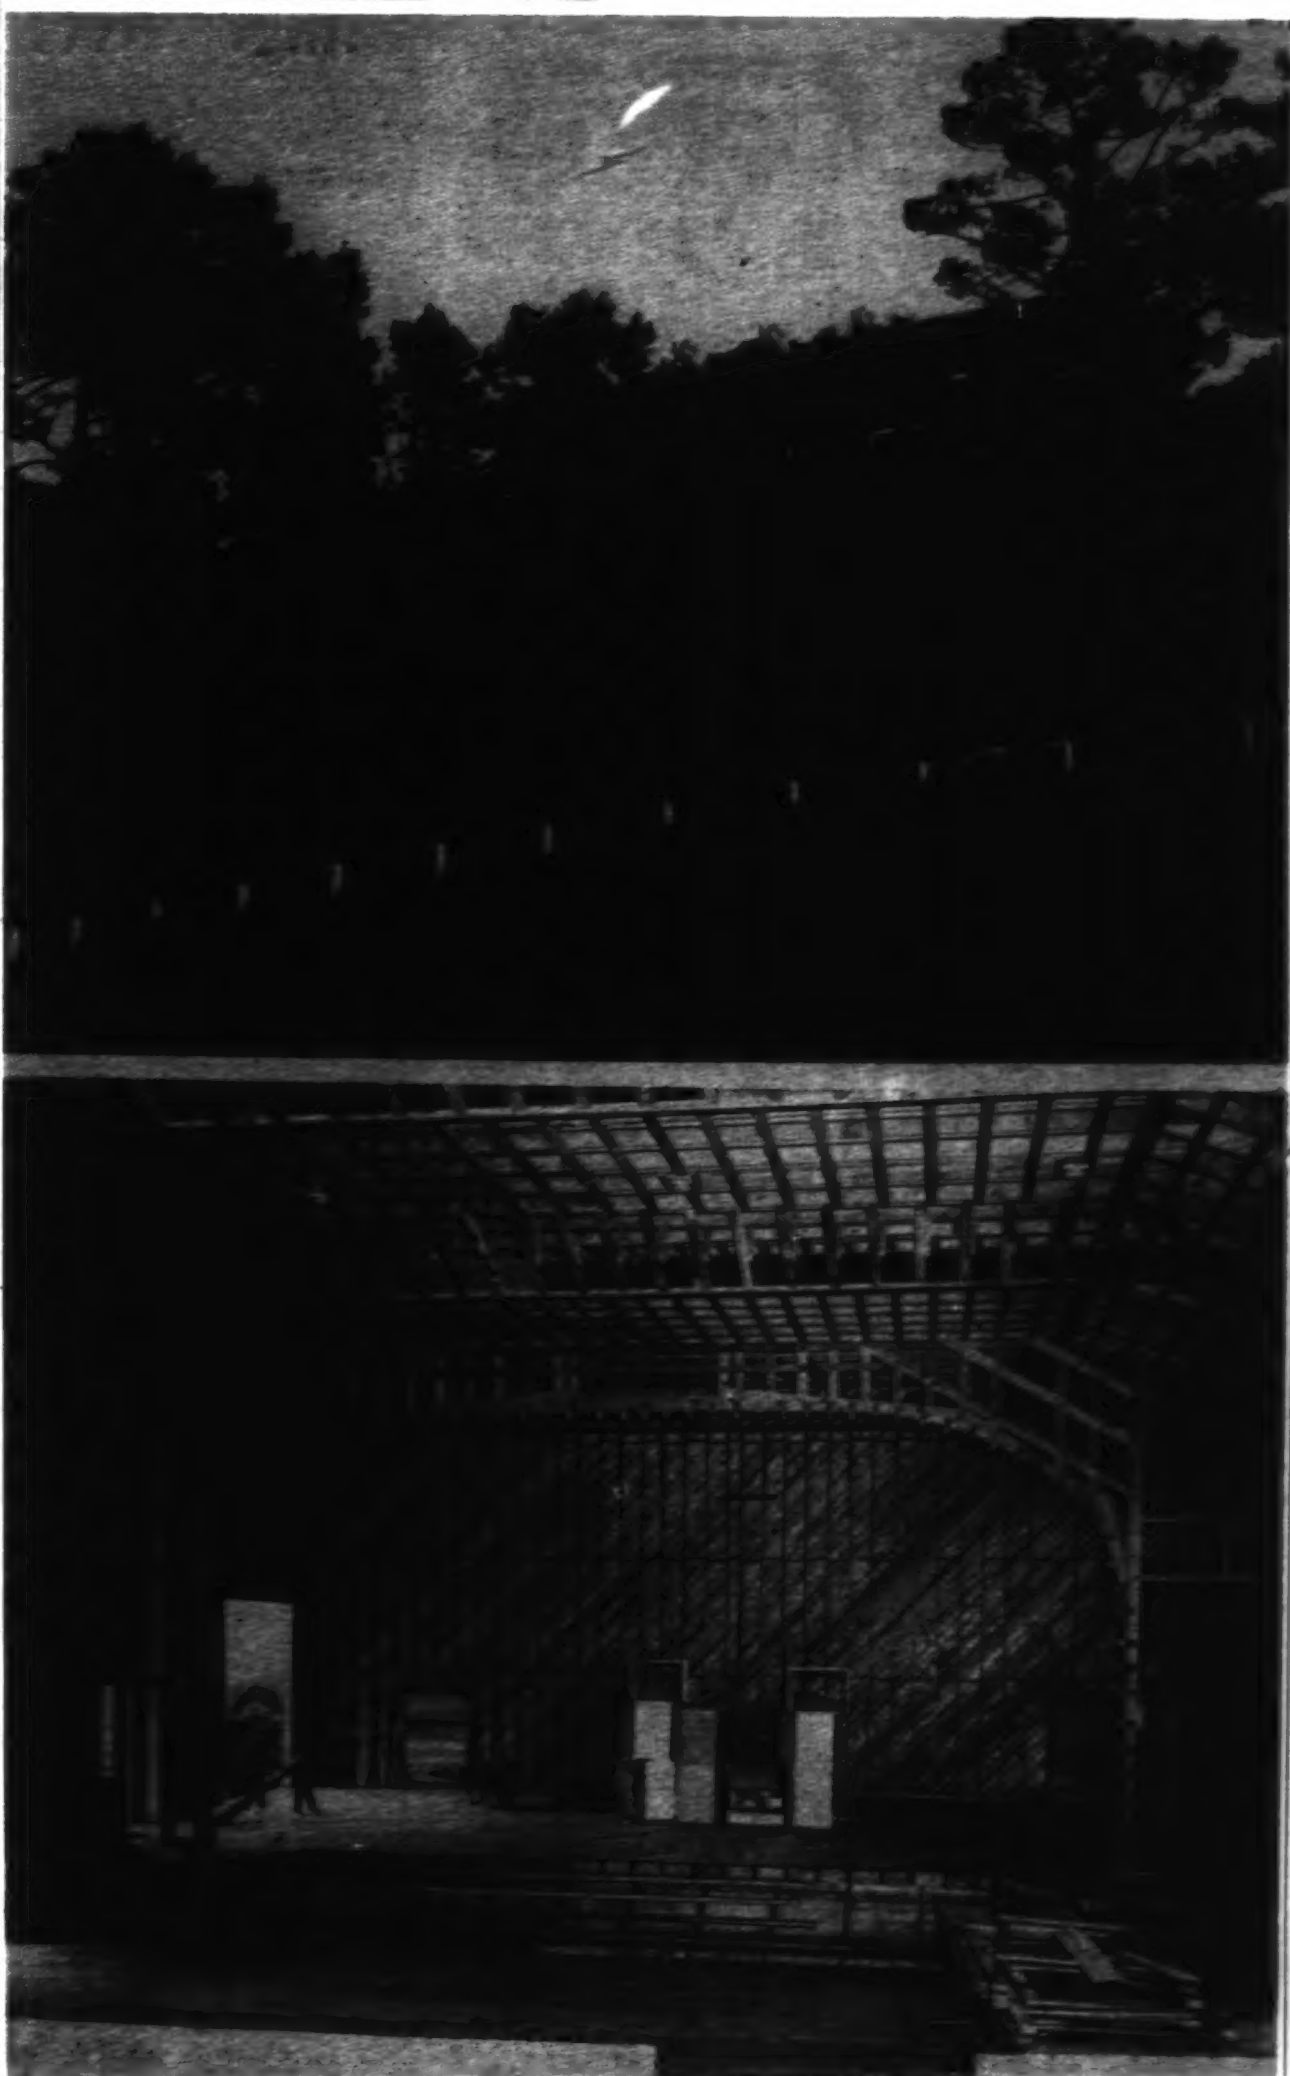

S. V. Christierson, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, will speak next Friday night at the meeting of the Monterey Area Republican Women. Mrs. Karl W. Hisgen, president of the group, said all Republicans are invited to attend the meeting which will be held at the Pacific Grove Women's Civic Club at 2 p.m. A motion picture will also be shown.

spirit of the election system.

This was done, of course, because Bramblett is such a weak candidate. The Republican committee, or rather a section of it led by Chairman Christierson, evidently thought that an all-out effort was necessary to meet the strong Democratic candidate, Will Hayes. The result was that Candidate Holmes was not even given a hearing before the committee. He did speak before them, but the matter was "cut and dried" beforehand.

Because of the strength of the Democratic candidate, it is necessary that the Republicans nominate the best man they can find. Those backing Bramblett hopefully believe that he will be washed back into office in the surge towards Republicans that will be shown in the fall voting. The 1948 election should have shown them that they are dreaming a pretty big dream. Even though the voters approve of the Republican presidential candidate, say Eisenhower, it is by no means assured that they will put Bramblett back in his seat.

An Editorial--

James L. Holmes, Republican candidate for Congress, is in town this weekend. Republican voters owe it to him and to themselves to meet the candidate that the Republican County Central Committee has refused to recognize.

The purpose of a primary election is to determine which candidate each party favors to carry its banner into the general election. In this case, the central committee decided to support Ernest K. Bramblett, incumbent, long before the primary, even to the extent of helping him win the primary-- something that is against the

Republicans have a chance to meet Holmes Saturday noon at a luncheon at Cerritos. We suggest they go and at least hear what the candidate has to say. The central committee didn't even do this.

The Lively Arts

RUBINSTEIN CONCERT

The incomparable Artur Rubinstein will be heard in recital next Friday evening at Sunset Auditorium under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society. Rubinstein, who is generally recognized as the greatest pianist of our time, has chosen a program ranging from the Waldstein Sonata of Beethoven to Liszt's Mephisto Waltz. He has included three Chopin selections, the Ballade in G Minor, the Nocturne in D Flat, and the Scherzo in C Sharp minor, as well as the lovely Ondine by Ravel.

CHS MUSIC CONCERT

The Spring Concert of the Carmel High School Music Department will be held at Sunset Auditorium next Thursday at 8 p.m. The concert is an annual event given to benefit the Bardarson Memorial Fund. The fund is an assistance one, to which students in college may apply for financial aid.

John Farr will direct the program which is a varied one. Among the student performers will be Lanny Doolittle who will play a piano solo, Paula Schneeberger and Janet Huffman who will offer a vocal duet, and a boys' quartette made up of George Kastner, Lanny Doolittle, Leslie Doolittle, and Chris Van Peski.

A cornet trio will be made up by Sam Smith, Jon Menand, and Dick Hifgers and Leslie Doolittle will play a trombone solo. Members of the orchestra, band, and choir will round out the program.

Admission for the performance is 50¢ for adults and 20¢ for children.

HIGH SCHOOL CARNIVAL

Tomorrow is the big day for the annual Carnival put on by the Carmel High School Girls' League and the Carmel PTA.

Proceeds from the carnival will provide a scholarship each for a senior boy and girl from Carmel High School.

The carnival will be held at the high school from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m., and will get under way with a costumed parade which will include fire engines and police cars.

Many concessions and games of skill are planned, as well as numerous exhibits. A Science Fair will have exhibits of a model Uranium atom, a Geiger counter, and minerals under black light. Students will be in attendance at these booths to explain them to the public.

An added feature is a cooking contest for children with $30 in prizes to be divided between boys and girls in each of three age groups. Students will judge this contest, the only requirement for an entry being that it be the work of the entrant, with no adult help.

ARTUR RUBINSTEIN gives the final Carmel Music Society concert of the year next Friday at Sunset Auditorium. A featured work of the concert will be Beethoven's "Waldstein Sonata."

Arrangements are being made to provide transportation for those wishing to attend the carnival and station wagons and cars, suitably marked, will be cruising about Carmel all day Saturday to take people to the high school. Those wishing to spend the day at the carnival will be able to buy lunch at booths there.

ONE-MAN SHOW BY WILLIAM WATTS

A one-man show of paintings by William Watts opened yesterday at the Carmel Art Association Galleries.

A reception is being held in Mr. Watts' honor on Sunday, May 4, at 8 p.m. at the galleries.

A remarkable and well known pair, Pat and John Cunningham, came to Carmel in 1939 with a plan to paint here for one year. Now, in April of 1952 they are leaving for Paris, from whence after six weeks they'll head right back to Carmel, since, before their first year was up they'd decided that they and Carmel were pretty well mated.

Both artists, Pat and John started out on the artistic life with a sureness that apparently never faltered. Both were students at Cal, where each took a B.A. and M.A. It was there that they met, and in Paris that they were married.

Pat, a tall woman, with striking blue eyes and fair hair, is a fourth generation Californian whose great-great grandfather was General William Ashley of Salt Lake City pioneering history. Her great grandfather, Delos Ashley, was prominent in California affairs, numbering among his posts the mayoralty of Monterey and the treasuryship of California. Pat herself is an unaffected and charming person, whose seemingly vague air is completely deceptive. When she seems most dissociated from what she's saying, her comments are most penetrating. She has a ready smile that softens an extremely regal carriage, and brings a direct warm attention and dazzling smile to all of her conversations.

With his history in his accent, John is a New Yorker (pronounced Yaw-ker), with the wide ready smile of the Irish, a loquacious and disarming person, whose conversation is punctuated with broad grins... abbreviated thoughts, and unfinished sentences.

The Cunninghams studied together under Hans Hoffman in Munich, and Andre L'hote in France, and then returned to New York, where they did commercial art for department stores. They made displays, figures and decorations for a number of New York concerns and then left for France again, where they lived and painted near the Mediterranean for another year.

When they came back to the States, they expanded the New York venture, making a real factory of their studio.

Somewhere in all this time John made a sojourn as an able-bodied seaman and did a tour of work for the government as Designer for the Resettlement administration, designing displays and exhibitions.

In 1936, ill health brought Pat back to her native state, and John followed shortly after, whereupon the two devoted their time to the California World's Fair. They were staff artists for the Hall of Science and the Palace of Fine Arts.

It was after this that they came to Carmel. It seemed so ideally suited to them that they decided, for richer or poorer, to stay.

They began teaching at the Carmel Art Institute during the illness of Armin Hansen and have since taken over the school which flourishes under them. It has become internationally recognized as an excellent school of all mediums.

There are two Cunningham youngsters... Ashley, who is 15 and student at Fordham Prep, and Gael, five, who is at Sarah School.

As they pass through New York on their way to France, the Cunninghams will arrive in time to see an exhibition of Pat's painting at Dorothy

SUNSET PROGRAM COMMENDED

Sunset School has been cited in the journal of the California Department of Education for its camping and outdoor program. Coincident with the publication of the bulletin, a letter has been received by Arthur Hull, principal of Sunset, commending himself, Stuart Mitchell, school superintendent, and James Blee, sixth grade teacher.

Edward Dolder, chief of conservation education for California, says in his letter that Sunset's program was "one of the best in the state."

"Camping and Outdoor Education" is the name of the pamphlet in which the program is discussed, and was published in March. Dolder's letter was received at Sunset this week. It contains a discussion of the Pfeiffer Big Sur outing made annually by Sunsetters of the sixth grade and four pictures of Carmel small fry in action.

DOUGLAS WINS GYMKHANA

Douglas School, Pebble Beach, won the annual interschool Gymkhana held at the Pebble Beach Stables Sunday, April 27, with a total score of 92½ points. Santa Catalina School scored 35½ points, and the Pebble Beach Stables group 28 points. Approximately 50 youngsters participated in the games of musical chairs, high jumping, stake bending, obstacle races, relay races, and rescue races.

Sandra Six of Douglas and Camille Stahl of Santa Catalina tied for first place in the high jump contest, each clearing the 3'6" jump. Douglas won the stake bending race with Sam Morse III first, Westy Fletcher second, and Sandra Six third. Obstacle course was won by four Douglas riders, jumping three different horses each, without a fault. Riders were Patsy Field, Sandra Six, Cynthia Marks, and Sam Morse.

Douglas also won the relay race with an 8-rider team riding two horses. Riders were Patsy Pell, Westy Fletcher, Colene Campbell, Kathie Dumont, Sam Morse, Cynthia Marks, Patsy Field, and Sandra Six.

NATURE SCHOOL REGISTRATION

Registration has opened for the sixteenth session of the West Coast Nature School, which annually offers three consecutive weeks of study in three of California's most popular summer resorts.

The 1952 session will include a week at Yosemite National Park (June 15-21), a week at Fallen Leaf Lake in the Lake Tahoe region (June 22-28), and a week at Asilomar on the Monterey Peninsula (June 29-July 5).

Members of the Nature School faculty are all present or former instructors in the Natural Science Department of San Jose State College. Complete information about the school may be obtained from Dr. Gertrude Cavins, registrar, West Coast Nature School, San Jose State College, San Jose.

STUDENTS VISIT MPC

Carmel High School seniors today attend the Monterey Peninsula College's annual Senior Day festivities. A varied program is offered and the students will eat lunch on the MPC campus.

covered William Cody, christened him Buffalo Bill, and promoted him into the greatest side-show attraction of his day. Judson, who was in constant hot water with the law and his lady friends, led a life which even his own imaginative thrillers could not rival.

Author James Branch Cabell, whose Jurgen stirred world-wide comment at the time of its publication, has written a group of autobiographical sketches of his early life and formative years as a novelist in Quiet, Please.

Those seeking an appreciation of music will find a good deal of help in Martin Bernstein's An Introduction to Music. Mr. Bernstein analyzes the major forms of composition, with samples of each form to be played on the piano. He also includes biographical material concerning the composers he deals with.

Bradford Smith has written a biography of his distinguished ancestor, Bradford of Plymouth. This is the story of William Bradford, who was elected the first governor of Plymouth colony at the age of 30 and reelected thereafter until his death.

In Born of Those Years, Perry Burgess tells his life story. Dr. Burgess, who is president of the Leonard Wood Memorial, has devoted his life to research about one of the most dreaded of diseases, leprosy. He has travelled all over the world and his book includes many inspirational stories of the afflicted people he has come to know.

Marianne Moore, called by Time magazine "the most accomplished poetess in the English-speaking world," has a new book of Collected Poems.

There is a large assortment of new fiction at the library this week. Prominent among the additions are Aubrey Menen's The Duke of Gallodoro and A. P. Herbert's Number Nine, or the Mind Sweepers. These two humorous English novels have received a good deal of critical acclaim. A new C. S. Forester book chronicles the early life of his durable hero, Lt. Horn- blower.

Two new thrillers deal with espionage and intrigue--Paul Gallico's Trial by Terror and Hammond Innes' Air Bridge. Other new fiction includes The Daughter of Time by Josephine Tey, The Quiet Gentleman by Georgette Heyer, Home to Tennessee by Alfred L. Crabb, and Bird of Paradise by Ada Levenson. There are also new mysteries by some of the most popular of the croak and dagger set, Leslie Ford's Bahamas Murder Case, Night Train to Paris by Manning Coles, and Reclining Figure by Marco Page.

Miss Elizabeth Niles, librarian, has arranged a special exhibit of articles and pictures dealing with Henri Matisse who was the subject of last Monday's film and lecture at Sunset Auditorium. The display includes a recent publication on Matisse with large, colored reproductions of his works, and it will remain at the library for several weeks to enable those interested to see it.

"CAL-VET" LOANS AGAIN

State low-interest financing of farms and homes is available now to California veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean emergency, Claude S. Estill, Veterans' Service Officer, reported this week.

Applications for "Cal-Vet" financing are being accepted and processed as usual by the State Department of Veterans Affairs, Mr. Estill said, following the reopening April 16 of the farm and home purchase program.

Closed temporarily in February when available funds were exhausted, the program is operating now on a $55,000,000 appropriation.

Applications for certificates of eligibility for state farm and home financing, educational assistance, and other "Cal-Vet" benefits are available at 559 Pacific street, Monterey.

than ten years, "Fritz" (near-Dobberman) accompanied his owner, Harry Downie, to work daily on the reconstruction of Carmel's beautiful Mission. "Bailey" (almost a cocker), owned by the late Bob Anderson, was his steady companion during the years Anderson worked for Murphy's Lumber Company in Carmel. A walk through Carmel's business section today will reveal many more faithful pets putting in an eight hour day with their shop owners. Your photographer interviewed those pictured here and reports the following:

I JUST DON'T KNOW WHICH TO CHOOSE.

"Susy," a Cairn terrier, owned by Peggy Long and Claire Cross of The Decorator Shop, was interrupted long enough for a picture, during her perusal of the new spring patterns of wall paper. Susy's always willing to lend her four years of experience in helping indecisive customers make the final selection.

ONE, HOW YOU SAY, HAMBURGER PLEASE?

In contrast to the six working dogs is "Nappy," a poodle owned by Mrs. E. P. Turi. A world-traveler, he is frequently seen lounging on the Left Bank of Dolores street. Here he is shown "bumping-up" on French grammar, investing his leisure time in self-improvement while enjoying the Parisian atmosphere of "Quimper Laces." He was reared in Italy where he spoke only Italian, came to Carmel where he learned English, and at present he is learning French by attending the Adult Education classes with his owner.

I'M JUST NO GOOD, THESE SPRING DAYS.

"Susie-no-nose," the Pekinese who supervises Virginia Nielson's florist shop, took a vacation from work recently to produce three little ones. Here are two of her new daughters, Amber and Little Sister Wu, following in their mother's footsteps. "Little Sister Wu" is enjoying the scent of a huge peony that recently bloomed in Mrs. Nielson's garden.

The largest ship models ever displayed on the Peninsula are being exhibited at the spacious, new offices of the Phinney-McGinnis Travel Services, 402 Alvarado Street, Monterey.

This is an invitation to see the huge ten foot model "Caronia," pride of the Cunard Line. The colorful "Lurline" of the Matson Lines, a $10,000 model in smallest detail. Also the "President Polk," one of the American President Lines Round-the-World ships.

Another attraction in the new Phinney-McGinnis agency is a giant eight by twelve foot wall map of the world. This unusual map is illustrated in an imaginative manner with drawings representing the peoples of the various nations.

Record Reviews..

by ROSS WORSLEY

Sophisticated songs and patter by Dwight Fiske and his piano are now available on 10" long-playing records, Volumes one and two, issued by Gala.

The art of this concert pianist, whose wit and personality have led him all over the world with his repertoire of gay and amusing songs, has been released by public demand on well-engineered vinylite. They will add a good deal of spice to any evening's entertainment.

Dial, the company which sponsors the contemporary composer and artist in both classical and popular fields, presents a 10" L.P. featuring the inimitable Teddy Wilson and his all-stars: Flip Phillips, Slam Stewart, and Buck Clayton. This fits right into the pattern of the great modern jazz series.

The imaginative Period Recording Company continues to contribute worthwhile literature to the library of the connoisseur. I have in mind the Bach Suites for unaccompanied violoncello, numbers 3 in C Major and 6 in D Major, played by Jonas Starker, remembered for his masterly interpretation of the Kodaly cello sonatas. Both performance and surface are excellent.

Modern Music Swiss Composer's League, London 12" L.P., Jean Binet - String Quartet, Adolf Brunner - Sonata for Flute and Piano, Othmar Schoeck - Toccata for Piano-- these are solid musical expressions, unpretentious, individual, and sincere. The disc will have a wide appeal for it is warm, never heavy, never encumbered with moodiness. The artists are all top-notch.

Another recording of Berlioz' Symphonie Fantastique and a fine one. This reading is by Eduard van Beinum conducting the Concertgebouw Orchestra, Amsterdam's superb musical aggregation. Here is an impassioned performance of a perennially popular work on one 12" London microgroove record.

"Martha" by von Flotow, complete on 3-12 Urania L.P.'s with soloists of much importance. Erna Berger singing like an angel, Set Svanholm in excellent voice, and a new baritone of the helden variety that Loaded with the contributions of 71 successful depositors, a corps of pleased Red Cross bankers returned to San Jose blood bank headquarters totting the Valley's donation to the Armed Forces Blood Program. By 5:30 p.m., 78 of the 96 pledges had kept their appointments, 16 others had dropped in unannounced. To the 22 persons who volunteered but were rejected for reasons ranging from bad colds to h-b-hay! fever, a sincere vote of thanks went out, with wishes for better luck next time. The blood will be processed for immediate shipment to the Korean fighting front...

Half acre lots will be allowed in Rancho Del Monte Subdivision No. 7 owing to the unusual character of the land. however, the Planning Commission advises, this is not meant to establish precedent in normal instances. The Planning Commission also formally recommended this week an alternate road plan map following more closely the original road now leading into the Valley. To the commissioners it was pointed out that the major realignment as presented by the county engineer's office would cut certain orchard property almost in half (Millers), come within about 10 feet of one house (Ashtons) and two feet of another (Whelans), as well as border the Tularcitos School property...a situation which will be strongly opposed by the Tularcitos Mothers Club...Commissioners Olmstead, Colegrove, Martin, and Moffitt favored studying closely an alternate route. Commissioner Tavernetti expressed the belief that someday the Upper Valley would be a bustling metropolis, divided into quarter acre lots, and crying for a wide straight highway...an opinion not necessarily shared by many including the Carmel Valley Property Owners Assn. whose representative, J. K. Caldwell, asked for reconsideration of the realignment plan, and a letter from the Business and Professional Assn.

School Elections May 16 come up with two Monterey High School board members to choose from (Mrs. James Speakman, Walter Warfield) and four Tularcitos Elementary District trustees (Mrs. Jack Hennessey, Mrs. R. B. Stoney, Mrs. Martha Williams, Ralph Stean, and Warren Highby) ... A whirlwind campaign to pass the $61,000 school bond and tax increase election to a successful conclusion is expected to precede the May 16 election date...the bond issue would raise property taxes between 12¢-15¢ per hundred...

Candidates for jobs of supervisor, municipal magistrate, and school trustee stood on their own platforms before Valley voters Tuesday night at the Carmel Valley Property Owners invitational candidates

HUNTER TRIALS BEGIN TOMORROW

The Pebble Beach Spring Invitational Hunter Trials and the Olympic 3-Day Training Meet is scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday.

The schedule calls for Conformation Judging at the Pebble Beach Stables tomorrow at 9:30, followed by the Model Class at 10 a.m., and a Hacking Class at 10:30.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 the picturesque two-mile Bird Rock Course will be used, in which the riders jump 15 fences--post and rail, ditches, logs, chicken coops, and stone walls.

Sunday morning at 10:30 the riders progress to the Griffin Course, which is about one-quarter mile in length--10 fences, up banks - in and out - gate - down bank, and finish with a double Irish Bank.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 the Hunter Trials finish at the Pebble Beach Stables, an intricate course one-half mile in length.

The Hunter Trials are separated into three divisions for judging purposes: Conformation Division, to be judged 1000 total points for performance; Working Division, to be judged as Working Hunters, and Junior Division, open to any horses not entered in the other two divisions and to be ridden by riders who have not graduated from high school. Awards will be given for each Division and each Phase.

Already entered in the Hunter Trials are: Robert Lawson, Los Altos; Mary Brown, Atherton; Mary Lou Hansen, Frances Blunt, Betty Yaw and Barbara Lang of the Mills College-Cressmont Club; Mrs. K. G. Downton, Atherton; R. W. Decker, Los Altos; Mrs. Louis Swift, Chino; Mr. and Mrs. Egon Merz, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Menasco, Burbank; Mrs. Paul Clark, Pebble Beach; Thomas Bunn, Jr., Peggy Glaser, Sandra Stolich, Ronald Stolich, Pebble Beach; Sandra Six, San Morse III, Patricia Field, Douglas School, and Camille Stahl, Santa Catalina School for Girls; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Friedlander, Soquel, and Wally Nall, Los Altos.

Col. Charles B. Hazeltine of Carmel, formerly Master of Fox Hounds at Fort Riley and for many years recognized as an outstanding American Horse Show judge, will serve as Hunter Judge for the event.

EQUESTRIAN COMPETITION TOMORROW AND SUNDAY

Jim Glaser of the Advisory Committee of the West Coast U.S. Equestrian Team, Inc. has announced the first of a series of equestrian team competitions ever held on the West Coast, to be held at Pebble Beach tomorrow and Sunday at the time of the annual hunter trials.

Six teams have been entered in this competition--two from Northern California, one from Southern California, two

Among the horsemen who will attend the Pebble Beach contest May 3 and 4 will be Egon Merz of Beverly Hills, shown above taking a post and rail jump. The contest will be a combination of hunter trials and the Olympic Three-Day course, planned as a training event for riders and horses for the 1956 Olympic Games. Below are some riders and mounts preparing for hunter trials at Pebble Beach. --Julian P. Graham photos.

A.A.U.W. BOARD MEETING

The American Association of University Women will hold a Board of Directors' meeting next Monday, May 5, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mark Raggett in Carmel.

AAUW members are urged to attend the State Convention to be held in Santa Cruz on May 16 and 17. Mrs. Delbert Jeffers and Miss Kathryn Dahms will act as co-chairmen in arranging transportation. Those desiring a ride, or having space in their cars for others, are requested to call 5-4497 in the evening. Mrs. Ted Durein will be the guest speaker at the Press Workshop Conference on Saturday, May 17. Other members of the local branch who have been invited to participate at the State Convention are Mrs. Paul Messier, Miss Ruth Blanchard, Mrs. Philip Arnold, Mrs. J. C. Basford, Mrs. H. Douglas Martz, and Mrs. Mark Raggett.

KENNEL CLUB MEETS TO PLAN JUNE DOG SHOW

The last regular meeting of the Del Monte Kennel Club before its June 7th show will be held Monday at Del Monte Lodge. Final plans for the show will be made at that time.

Club Secretary Derek Rayne says the club expects a record entry of over 700 dogs this year, topping last year's record by more than 100.

In the meantime the club is holding classes every Sunday at the Carmel High School football field to instruct novices in handling their dogs in shows. Pointers on trimming show dogs are also given. Any and all interested are invited to attend. These classes will start a week from Sunday--on May 11.

USO ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETING

Mrs. Edward Cochrane, president of the Advisory Committee of the Monterey USO, presided at the regular monthly luncheon meeting of this group, held in the USO building, Monday, April 28.

Following the secretary's report and routine business, Frank Adams, director of the USO, gave a report on his recent trip to New York where he attended the National USO conference followed by the National YMCA conference.

Mrs. D. P. Germane reported on the arrangement for flowers and decorations in the USO building during the coming months.

Mrs. Cochrane worked out a schedule for the month of May, providing for volunteer service at the desk and at the door afternoons and evenings.

Names of new members for the Girls' Service Organization were discussed and their references checked. These girls act as hostesses at the dances and social evenings. In order to join the USO, a girl must be at least 16, name two responsible sponsors, and have her parents' permission. These girls are chaperoned in the building by at least two members of the Senior Advisory group. Transportation is provided to and from their homes if necessary.

The personnel of the Monterey USO are to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which varied activities are conducted daily in order to make "a home away from home" for boys in the service.

Many newly wed couples are turning to the USO for advice and help in finding friends and living quarters. It is expected to form a couples' club in the near future.

With the cooperation of the authorities at Fort Ord, the Monterey USO is carrying on a work that brings credit to the whole Peninsula.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Last Monday afternoon, the garden section of the Woman's Club of Carmel had as its speaker Mr. Wm. Saylor who illustrated his talk on gardens with Kodachrome slides. His program was divided into two sections; the first dealt with leading botanical gardens of Europe, with Mr. Norman Gillespie as narrator, and especially beautiful were the gardens of France, Holland and Italy. After a question period regarding care of flowers, trees and gardens Mr. Saylor showed pictures of Hawaii with various kinds and sizes of orchids and hibiscus, the national flower.

Tea was in charge of Mrs. Sinclair McClellan, Mrs. George Baxter, and Mrs. Ramona Gahl. Mrs. Herbert Coffman and Mrs. E. J. Murray poured.

The program for May 5 will be "Dances of Spain" by La Mariquita, the young, vivacious lady who renews the vivid and dramatic dances of Spain on the American stage. She will have a guitar accompanist and the authentic costumes worn by her are typical of the various regions represented. Rhythm, grace, beauty of color and music--all will combine to bring artistic inspiration and satisfaction to the club members.

VALLEY AT WORK ON BIG JUNE VARIETY SHOW

The organization of the Community Center Benefit Variety Show in the Valley is coming along rapidly. The administrators are already at work and the principal act is cast.

"Curse You, Jack Dalton," the 45-minute melodrama around which the show is built, will include Esther Fleharty, Patty Trevvett, Roland Scheffler, Lorrain Marcucci, George Hall, and Millie and Parker Kimball. In addition there will be a great variety of olio acts. Notices of tryouts and rehearsals on these acts will be published next week.

The director of the show is Bob Bratt, with Byington Ford as his assistant. To help them with the various details are Paul Porter, Tony Ara Bia, Charles Nason, and Sam Brandt. The liaison work between the various managers and committees will be done by teenagers, headed by Don Corona and Dave Keppler.

The Paso Tiempo Club, and Valley Kiwanis Club are jointly sponsoring the affair. The Barn Theater has been bruised posteriors as well as their minds.. listened to Jacobsen tick off 18 supervisorial years with much county building(hospital, prison farm, county building) and low county taxes. Jack Redhead and David Gill, opposing Jacobsen, favored a county charter, replacing an administrative agent.

Jacobsen pointed out this has recently been studied by various citizens' committees and voted down. Redhead accused Jacobsen of ruling the board of supervisors; Gill spoke for more equal representation on the board (Monterey and Salinas areas with 65% of total county

stops the show "Martha" has all the singing melodies of a "Fledermous" or "Gypsy and vivacity. The orchestra plays with crispness and enjoyment. I prophesy an unusually wide sale for this thoroughly enjoyable album.

The Amateur Gardener

GARDENING FOR HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

By CHARLES W. DELANEY

A garden, no matter how simple, is a cloister, pure in creed... it gives one a feeling of reverence... for all that is great and lasting, all that is little and beautiful. It is where we are brought together with the sun, the productive earth, the song of birds, the many pleasing sights, sounds and fragrance of flowers. It is a place where we can cleanse our minds of petty thoughts and emotional stresses that are so harmful to the physical body, and have peace.

The real fulfillment is the joy in working with nature; the pleasure of gardening must come from the heart and not alone from the thought of the physical effort. In the love of nature it makes us revere the great Force which has created life and the gift of life. Except for the faith of man in the orderly procedure of natural things, life could not go on as it does. We know nature's laws; that a time of harvest will follow a time of planting; that faithful work will find its reward; nothing is ever obtained without work. These and many more things we must believe; it is but a small step further to believe there is eternal purpose in it all, and that a Divine Intelligence created and planned it all. These are the things we can realize by doing our part to add to the beauty about us, and thus see God moving in His majesty and power. This has been vividly expressed in a song by W. L. Childress:

Here's a song of praise for a beautiful world,
For the banner of blue that's above unfurled,
For the streams that sparkle and sing to the sea,
For the bloom in the glade and the leaf on the tree;
Here's a song of praise for a beautiful world.

Now that our gardens are on their way for summer blooming and we take a little rest from strenuous work, we try to enjoy our efforts in the cloister doing the routine chores that are needed. Next we shall discuss reproducing plants from cuttings and layering.

ALL SAINTS' RUMMAGE

This year the annual rummage sale of All Saints' Episcopal Church--next Thursday in the parish hall at Lincoln and Ninth--will by no means be a "women's affair."

Members of All Saints' Brotherhood, parish men's club, have taken over the garden and patio section of the sale and, under chairmanship of Col. Joseph Jack Johnston Sr., will handle a variety of outdoor items for sale.

On the feminine side of the event, rummage offerings ranging from samovars to ironing-boards are being amassed, promising an unusually wide choice of articles.

Arrangements for the sale are being handled by a women's auxiliary committee composed of Mesdames D. D. MacGregor, D. McMillan Kerr, Charles I. Fox, Charles G. Strickland, H. T. Raymond, A. C. Bennett and Philip G. Preble.

Other committees are chairmanned as follows:

Women's clothing, Mrs. Edwin H. Ewig; men's clothing, Mrs. M. K. Hall; jewelry, Miss Alice McClure; antiques, Mrs. M. L. Horace Reynolds; hats and bags, Mrs. G. W. Jordan; children's clothing, Mrs. Violet Weisiger; lingerie, Mrs. H. P. Underwood; white elephants, Miss Elizabeth White; books and pictures, Mrs. Thomas G. Tousey Sr.; curtains and draperies, Mrs. Bruce Bacon; linens, Mrs. R. R. Wallace; toys, Mrs. Walter Lehman; shoes, Mrs. E. H. Santee; publicity, Mrs. Sinclair McClellan; household goods, Mrs. Strickland; finance, Mrs. L. Fisher; final disposal, Mrs. Williams Crain.

Anyone wishing to have contributions picked up for delivery to the parish hall may arrange this service by phoning either Mrs. James W. Vaughan, 7-7397, or Mrs. Mac Gregor, 7-7047.

WAYFARER SERVICES

Guest preacher at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services at the Church of the Wayfarer on Sunday will be Dr. Eugene L. Smith of New York City. Head of the Division of Foreign Missions, he was formerly minister of St. Mark's Methodist Church in Brooklyn and lecturer at New York University's School of Education. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray will conduct both services.

LOCALIGHT (cont'd.)

Hale's Gallery. They'll go on to Paris, where they are very much at home, and after six weeks return to Carmel where their school and work await them... an extraordinarily successful pattern for artists, and a pattern which in the case of the Cummings seems a fitting one.
